Identification and Verification of a Beneficial Owner, Trustee, Nominee, or Agent. – Where an account is opened or a casino transaction is conducted by any person in behalf of another, the casinos shall establish and record the true and full identity and existence of both the account holder or transactor and the beneficial owner or person on whose behalf the casino transaction is being conducted. Provided, that the bettor/player shall be considered the beneficial owner if he has full and physical control over the bet placed on the table in the Gaming Area of the casino.

The casinos shall determine the true nature of the parties' capacities and duties by obtaining a copy of the written document evidencing their relationship and apply the same standards for assessing the risk profile and determining the standard of due diligence to be applied to both. In case it entertains doubts as to whether the account holder or transactor is being used as a dummy in circumvention of existing laws, it shall apply enhanced due diligence or file a suspicious transaction report, if warranted.

Section 23. Prohibited Transactions. – Casinos shall be prohibited from engaging in the following transactions or activities:

- 1) Any transaction involving the conversion of cash from one form to another without being used in gaming, and results therefrom, made through:
 - a. The receipt of cash for transmittal of all or part thereof through wire or telegraphic transfer for or on behalf of a customer;
 - b. Payments in cash of funds received through wire or telegraphic transfer;
 - c. The cashing of checks or other negotiable instruments;
- 2) Receiving cash, the purpose or ownership of which cannot be ascertained within a period of at least seven (7) days from the date of receipt; and
- 3) Using of casino chips in the premises other than the issuing casino, including betting and exchanging into cash or other forms of casino chips.

Section 24. Politically Exposed Persons. – In addition to establishing the full identities of PEPs, casinos shall also establish and record the identities of the immediate family members and entities if publicly known to be related to the PEP. Casinos shall carefully consider a PEP's position and the position's attendant risks with respect to money laundering and terrorist financing in determining what standard of due diligence shall apply to them.

RULE VII RECORD-KEEPING

Section 25. Record-Keeping. – All CDD records and casino transactions of customers shall be maintained and safely stored for at least five (5) years, except for records of video footage, where casinos may enforce a risk-based approach, provided that suspicious activities and STR-related footage are kept for 5 years or as otherwise allowed by the AMLC. If a case has been filed in court, records, including video footage, must be retained and safely kept beyond the five (5)-year period, until it is officially confirmed by the AMLC Secretariat that the case has been resolved, decided or terminated with finality.

Section 26. Record Safekeeping. – A casino shall designate an officer to be responsible and accountable for all record-keeping requirements explained in this CIRR. The officer will also be responsible for making these records readily available to the AMLC and AGA upon request.

Casinos shall maintain records in an organized and confidential manner, which allows the AMLC, AGA, the courts, and any auditor acceptable to AGA to establish an audit trail for money laundering and terrorist financing activities, if any, and to assess its compliance program.

Section 27. Form of Records. – Records shall be retained as originals or copies in such forms as are admissible in court pursuant to existing laws, such as RA No. 8792 or the E-Commerce Act and its implementing rules and regulations, and the applicable rules promulgated by the Supreme Court.

RULE VIII TRANSACTION REPORTING

Section 28. Reporting of Covered and Suspicious Transactions. – Casinos shall report to the AMLC all covered transactions and suspicious transactions within five (5) working days, unless the AMLC prescribes a different period not exceeding fifteen (15) working days, from the occurrence thereof.

For suspicious transactions, “occurrence” refers to the date of determination of the suspicious nature of the transaction, which determination shall be made not exceeding ten (10) calendar days from the date of transaction. However, if the transaction is in any way related to, or the person transacting is involved in or connected to, a predicate offense or money laundering offense, the 10-day period for determination shall be reckoned from the date the covered person knew or should have known the suspicious transaction indicator.

Casinos shall take note and record instances where a transaction is initially flagged as potentially suspicious, even if they do not ultimately report the transaction through an STR, to facilitate ongoing monitoring of a given customer’s transactions.

Should a casino transaction be determined to be both a covered transaction and a suspicious transaction, it shall be reported as a suspicious transaction.

Section 29. Substance and Form of Reports. – Covered persons shall ensure the accuracy and completeness of CTRs and STRs, which shall be filed in the forms prescribed by the AMLC and shall be submitted in a secured manner to the AMLC in electronic form.

Casinos shall ensure the accuracy and completeness of CTRs and STRs in accordance with the reporting procedures prescribed by the AMLC. In order to provide accurate information, the casino shall regularly update customer identification information at least once every five (5) years on the basis of risk and materiality.

Section 30. Confidentiality of Reporting. – When reporting covered or suspicious transactions, casinos, and their officers and employees, are prohibited from communicating, directly or indirectly, in any manner or by any means, to any person or entity, or the media, the fact that a covered or suspicious transaction has been or is about to be reported, the contents of the report, or any other information in relation thereto. Any information about such reporting shall not be published or aired, in any manner or form, by the mass media, or through electronic mail, or other similar devices.

In case of violation thereof, the concerned officer, and employee, of the casino and media shall be held criminally liable under Section 14(d) of the AMLA, as amended.

Section 31. Safe Harbor Provision. – No administrative, criminal or civil proceedings shall lie against any person for having made a covered transaction or suspicious transaction report in the regular performance of his duties and in good faith, whether or not such reporting results in any criminal prosecution under the AMLA or any other Philippine law.

Section 32. Enrollment with the AMLC’s Reporting System. – All casinos shall register with the AMLC’s electronic reporting system within ninety (90) days from the effectivity of this CIRR.
